- There are many training sites in Newfoundland

College of the North Atlantic is a publicly funded institution with 17 campuses across the province. They offer a wide variety of courses including the skilled trades courses. Not all campuses offer all courses

There are a number of private colleges and schools around the province that offer the skilled trades courses. Some schools are unique to a trade (usually set up by a trade organization ie. Carpenter Millwright College, Operating Engineers, etc.) while other schools offer a wide variety of courses. (Academy Canada, Keyin Tech, Eastern College, etc.)
